Description

Rene Lalique Dans Le Nuit perfume bottle

Designed for the first perfume launched by Worth, Dans la Nuit which translates as In the Night.

It features a very early design for the stopper of a disc with a crescent moon .

It was discontinued due to an allegation of trademark infringement. Proctor & Gamble had objected that the star-moon motif was too similar to its Ivory soap logo.

Introduced in 1924

Marcilhac page ref:952

The condition is very good. The enamel is all intact. There are a few visible marks and signs of age. All in all a very good clean example

Moulded mark to the base R Lalique
